Re: Consultation re Revocation of Offer Behaviour Enforcement Guidelines – Tentatively Scheduled Stakeholder Meeting

On March 17, 2017 the MSA initiated a Consultation re Revocation of Offer Behaviour Enforcement Guidelines (OBEG). The MSA requested that comments on its Initial Assessment be received by the deadline April 7, 2017.

Following the submission of stakeholder comments the MSA is open to holding a stakeholder meeting and has asked stakeholders for views as to whether this would be desirable and, if so, what topics should be the focus and why.

With this in mind, the MSA has tentatively scheduled a stakeholder meeting in Calgary on April 12, 2017. Following the meeting, the MSA will respond to the written comments submitted by the deadline. There will be further opportunity for written comments in accordance with the MSA's stakeholder consultation process. Should the meeting not be required, the MSA will publish a notice of cancellation by April 10, 2017 on its website.

Please advise Amy Siciliano at amy.siciliano@albertamsa.ca by noon on April 10, 2017 if you plan to attend; attendees need to be on a list of attendees in order to access the room. NOTE: Due to space constraints, we may need to limit the number of attendees per organisation; as much as possible we would ask stakeholders to limit the number of attendees per organisation and for those with multiple attendees nominate a primary contact person / attendee should space become an issue.
